

Visit the Hill 2007

IACAC Travel Scholarship

IACAC and the Government Relations committee want to provide high school counselors the opportunity to not only attend Visit the Hill but also bring students. This will provide students with valuable information about state issues that directly influence their attendance in Iowa higher education institutions, and will give them an opportunity to go to “The Hill” and meet directly with their legislators and discuss the impact these issues have on them.

Schools are encouraged to group together from the same area if there is interest from more than one high school. Preference will be given for multiple-high-school applications.

The scholarship will cover transportation to and from the Historical Building for up to $75, making the entire conference nearly free.
